RISE is now working with the AI readiness survey

- We want more companies and society to benefit from AI and to have a tool to help them with the right actions
- We are using an approach similar to the Technology Readiness Level TRL
- A pilot project is ongoing in the north of Sweden to explore the right process that helps both small and big industry
- RISE will present this nationally on an AI tour in the end of Mars
- We would like to work with ARL on a European level to the benefit of all EU
