Publication Policy at Luleå University of Technology (LTU-368- 2022)

Decision

The Vice-Chancellor decides:

Luleå University of Technology supports and promotes the transition to an open scientific community and the principle of open science. Therefore, the University recommends its researchers to:

- Publish their peer-reviewed journal articles open access, i.e., made immediately and freely available in connection with the publication, in true Gold Open Access journals or in hybrid journals covered by any of the University's publication contracts, free of charge or at a discount of the publication fee. If immediate open access is not possible, a parallel publishing should be made in the University's publications database, provided that this is possible under copyright law.
- Select an open licence for their publications, primarily the CC-BY licence. Other options may be relevant depending on the requirements of funding bodies and publishers.
- Publish, in full, research output other than journal articles in the University's publications database.
- Ensure that research data and research results as far as possible fulfil the FAIR principles, i.e., Findable, Accessible, Interoperable, Reusable.
- In accordance with previous decisions (see ref. no. LTU-1324-04), publish, in full, dissertations in the University's publications database.

Revision

The Publication Policy at Luleå University of Technology replaces the previous policy (LTU-2621-14) and is regularly revised when required.

Summary

Publication policy for research results and research data complying with the recommendations expressed by the Association of Swedish Higher Education Institutions (SUHF) in Swedish Roadmap for Open Science.
